Mum

We celebrated my birthday (6/june) with lunch on sat 4/june/2011 at the cafe at old parliament house. Mum and I both had fish with pumpkin and fetta cheese. With the main course mum and I both had apple cider (alcoholic), one bottle each. I had chocolate mousse for desert, mum had chocolate cake. With the desert mum had a decaf skinny mugacino and I had hot chocolate. The apple cider was 2 standard drinks, 500ml, about 4.8% alcohol, in a bottle to pour into a glass. One bottle was about 3.5 glasses (3/4 full each time). There was a photo of bob hawke on the wall next to our table. For a DVD we watched "the dilemma" which was about two male friends with girlfriends one of the girlfriends cheated on him and the friend saw her kissing this other guy but couldn't decide whether to tell his friend or not, he was worried he would be upset, in the end he was so angry his friend hadn't told him earlier. I won't tell you what happens to the camera with all the evidence (photos), just in case you watch it and find out haha. For dinner at mums place I had cheese on toast (4 slices of bread with tasty cheese and onion and oregano under the oven's griller for a few minutes on aluminium foil on tray with shiny side up). For desert I had a piece of baclava and for a snack halfway through the movie some chocolate icecream and chocolate cherries which weren't as good as the chocolate sultanas you can get from coles jamison.

On saturday 11 june mum did not feel well so we did not meet, but she was feeling a bit better by monday (public holiday) so we met then. On monday 13 june we had lunch at ricardos, I had pumpkin fritters with salad and a large hot chocolate, mum had an omlette and skinny decaf mugacino after and i think also a pot of english breakfast tea during the meal. We got some carrot cake for me and caramel slice for mum from the bakery, to take back to mums place. We did a sudoku at mums place mum finished first of course, I made a mistake and had to start again despite finishing last even before I made a mistake. For a DVD we got "eat pray love" which was quite good actually I recommend it. She goes to italy and eats pasta and enjoys having meals with a family she meets there, she goes to india where she lives in some kind of meditation place, and then she falls in love with a guy and finally decides that it's worth going out of balance for love. For dinner we had soup with chicken and carrot in it, made with those cartons of chicken stock you can buy in the supermarket, and chicken breast pieces it seems, cooked in the frypan first.

On saturday 18 june 2011 mum and I went to the war memorial cafe for lunch with Ian, and his dad Lindsey, and mum sylvia. Sylvia is my mums friend. I had fish of the day (barramundi) chips and salad, and for desert jaffa/chocolate slice and a hot chocolate in a mug. Mum, Lyndsey and Sylvia had soup of the day. Ian had curry he loves it last time we were there he had curry too. Anyway mum and I went to the fruit & vegy shop at jamison and she bought me 2 bananas and 4 apples. We got a dvd called "Louise Michel" its a comedy, weird one, this guy was blowing up towers with toy planes as if they were the twin towers, and other explosions, this hit man was scared of using his guns he fired his gun at the dog he was supposed to kill and missed a huge hole in the ground next to the dog Lol, in the end he taped the dogs mouth shut instead, but he managed to get free and was barking again soon after he left. He managed to extract 1 euro from his client for this deed, I'm not sure how, since it appears he didn't do anything right. He was actually a woman but looked like a guy, and she was actually a man but looked like a woman, so they were a good match.

Mum and I did a sudoku, and I won! Yahoo! I finished first, she made a mistake, again. She had picked one that she made a mistake on before and hadn't managed to do it last time, so it's a possible explanation for why she couldn't do it this time either. I had to use the dot method to complete it. Dot one number, cross another number, as markers, in the box, circle the starting two markers, and see where it leads if we assume the dot or cross number is correct, by dotting or crossing next to other numbers. One lead to a problem (two 2's in a column) so the crosses were out, so the dots were right, and solved.

Jazz

On Friday 17 June 2011 I saw some bands at the Alliance Française de Canberra in Turner. There was a jazzy brass band called Brass-ere, Sally Greenaway on solo jazz piano (actually it was Olivier, not sure her last name), a folk group (Fire on the Hill) that sounded more like pop to me, clever Sunday Acapella group (apparently jazz school graduates) (really quite good in fact, considering it was just about 5 female voices without any other band instruments), Scatterpuss (funk) really quite good too. In fact it was all quite good. Nice entertainment for a Friday night. It was for a Meetup group called Minority Sweetheart. I bought a beer (boags) there. Ilias gave me a lift into the city after in his car, (arrived approx 9.15pm) and I caught the 9.36pm bus home after buying a peach juice to neutralize the beer. Well I think you need extra non-alcoholic drinks after drinking alcohol.

Meetups

On Sunday 19 June 2011 I went to Max Brenner chocolate bar at Belconnen. I had a chocolate brownie, and a mint chocolate (the mint chocolate is like a hot chocolate but mint flavoured). It was nice to drink. I was there with some people from a Meetup group there were 11 people include me. Actually the organiser Peter was the only one I recognised. It's lucky I found them, I was standing around outside the shop with all these people and I asked one of them was this the Meetup group and he said yes. It's good to have a shop so devoted to chocolate. Like hot chocolates of various types/ flavours.

Day-To-Day

(2011 Jun 8) I've been so lazy today, though I did go to my volunteer work (I finally managed to get out of bed) after that I bought lunch at a cafe (chicken filo with salad and milkshake) in Woden then caught the bus to the city bought a mango smoothie and then caught the bus to Belconnen and bought/ate a chocolate bar. Finally I caught the bus home and ate 8 pieces of chocolate (ie the rest) and a starfruit and a banana. The starfruit was great though not really as ripe as it perhaps should be, but it couldn't have been left any longer without going off. Overall very tasty day. Except now my mouth is hurting I think my inside of my mouth is burnt from the filo at lunch it was a little hot. Oh I will survive. But you see that wasted so much time coz I caught the bus to Woden from my volunteer work at 2pm and I got home about 5pm I wasted 3hrs eating drinking and bussing various places. Good to see I can waste an afternoon like that. Now I seem to have wasted even more time coz it's 7pm now. I'm trying to listen to some music but it just sounds BORING music not much good. Can't seem to find any decent music.

Birthday

On my birthday 51 kids in a primary school sang happy birthday to me coz I called up my friend Marie she's a teacher and she got them to sing for me. Actually I didn't call on purpose then I just thought she'd be on her lunch break but nope.

Webpage

Have a look at www.jevan1.com business Now and model magazine covers with my pic on it! guess how I did it haha. peoplist.com and magmypic.com

Also I've put a photo of me with Joy Burch (she's a politician in Canberra where I live). It was photographed at the multicultural festival thank you gathering, where they thanked volunteers from the festival (I was a volunteer).

I've uploaded a game I made some years ago in a group project when I was studying at AIE (Academy of Interactive Entertainment). <http://www.jevan1.com/pages/it-aie.html> You can change gun by pressing = You need to keep shooting them because you only have 5 seconds initially but if you shoot something you get more time. There is a list of characters to shoot with pictures in the manual.

On 10 June 2011 I recorded Down Under by Men At Work on SingSnap. The link is on my webpage under music/jevan singing karaoke.

Other

(2011jun1) One of the bathroom tiles has come off, I will tell the landlord tomorrow. I'm going to leave the bathroom door open overnight so it gets the heat from the bedroom, hopefully that will dry the water in the shower quicker.

(2011jun4) today the landlord she fixed the tile, thank goodness. It will take some time to dry.

On Saturday 18 June 2011 I cut my fingernails. But, I cut them too short. Next time I will cut them less short.

Here's a genuine joke. What did lady mcbeth say to her dog? Out, damn spot. You have to have read shakespeare to understand that joke.

driving toward doom, imminent disaster avoiding a mouse
what a squeak of surprise but i can't hear you, lucky i saw your glow-in-the-dark whiskers oh jack in the box mouse pop up and show me your might ahh what a day it is too silently yawning from dawn to dusk awake in a slumber of steps lucky i catch buses

the bus stops at the interchange and at my place when i ring the bell just a short walk down the path to my place my daily exercise lucky i get that but stressing because the bus braked suddenly it's not my responsibility to worry i'm still ok, it's always ok, so far now i'm in the mall, i can relax into a bowl of spaghetti or chinese beef this new chinese place sure makes good quality meals ahoy i see land, ships sinking, quick, man overboard everyone overboard swim for your life what can't swim oh that's ok take the motorboat ahh lucky for technology, what it has a hole?
thats ok plug it with your bathroom plug its just the plug hole someone pulled it out by accident forgot to put it back why do they make plug holes in boats seems asking for trouble wouldn't they scoop out any water with a dish not open the plug hole and let it all run out the bottom oh there's no plugs that's just in movies lucky that means we're not sinking after all!

just feels like it
going down, down
falling, transiently uncomfortable in my pocket
just a mouse
why a mouse you ask because its my pet
ahh i feed it to the cat!
so it can have a kitten!!
Oh I see.
but its desexed it can't Oh well.
